

INTRODUCTION

The digital age has revolutionized the business world, connecting consumers with product and service providers through various platforms. Companies such as Angi, Yelp, Yellow Pages, Nextdoor, Google, and Facebook stand out in this industry. Businesses invest billions of dollars in advertising to acquire customers, without obtaining guarantees of return on their investment. This panorama highlights the need for more effective and measurable strategies in the digital realm.

Taking as a reference innovative companies such as Uber and Airbnb, XP Network joins the digital revolution, leading the way in decentralization in marketing and advertising. For the first time, we're offering businesses the ability to transform their advertising budget into a direct investment, compensating agents for referring customers instead of spending across multiple platforms. This strategy not only optimizes resources, but also creates a collaborative network that boosts business growth and exposure.

WHAT IS XP NETWORK?

XP Network is a revolutionary platform reshaping the business landscape. It's where companies compensate agents for promoting their products and services, while accessing a suite of essential tools and services. Welcome to the future of business collaboration.

TYPES OF USERS

CUSTOMERS

Customers are people who access a directory of suppliers while enjoying exclusive discounts and rewards.

VENDORS

Vendors offer their services through a professional profile in the directory, gaining access to potential customers and agent-promoted advertising.

AGENTS

The agent promotes suppliers within the platform and generates income through commissions and residuals for their referrals and memberships.

SELLERS

A seller on XP Marketplace lists products for free, sets commission rates, and gains exposure to a network of buyers.
